NATION Brand

Brand is really just another word for reputation.
It's what we stand or fall by.

It determines what people think and how they react to us, it has an effect on everyone who comes into contact with us. It is shaped gradually over time, not only in the things that we do, but in the way in which we do them. We can either go with the flow, or we can take control and have a say in how we are perceived.

By presenting ourselves coherently and consistently, we can more clearly articulate who we are and what we stand for. We can stand out and stand tall, united behind an uplifting visual and emotional representation of our nation brand.

South Africa is a place of contrasts and diversity – old and new, traditional and progressive, local and global, city and country, art and commerce. It is these intriguing contradictions that make it such a unique and vibrant nation – a nation where anything seems possible and achievable.

Opening the world's eyes to the endless beauty and possibilities of South Africa brings more opportunities for all of us, and a worthwhile legacy to pass on to our children.

And for visitors and investors, the brand opens doors to a place that's like nowhere else on Earth, one that promises amazing, life-changing and profitable experiences.

An enhanced recognition for South Africa will mean we can welcome more corporate investment, more world-class events, and more visitors from every corner of the globe.

This, in turn, will lead to more economic prosperity, higher levels of employment, and a better standard of living. Which in turn will bring more social cohesion and mobility, more aspiration and optimism. Which will lead to more investment... and so the circle begins again.

MANDATE

Build a nation brand reputation that will contribute to South Africa's global competitiveness. That will Inspire and instil active citizenship amongst South Africans.

VISION

To be a nation our people and the world draw inspiration from; inspiration to find new paths, new solutions, new possibilities, new experiences, new ideas and the will to make it happen.

MISSION

We will do so by working together and encouraging all to play their part. Building on our achievements, using our own competitive advantages and key positive attributes. Fostering a spirit of pride and optimism, whilst acknowledging and effectively addressing our collective social and economic challenges.

WE ARE A YOUNG DEMOCRACY

As South Africans we're fiercely proud of our achievements to date, we're also fully aware of the challenges ahead. Though we have huge assets, we are still a nation in flux. Our population continues to grow rapidly, particularly in the urban centres of our major cities, and we need to make sure the social and economic infrastructure is robust enough to cope. South Africa is in the next chapter of development towards being a globally competitive nation, which seeks to accelerate and broaden economic and social benefits, address poverty, reduce crime and promote social cohesion by using our own competitive advantages and key positive attributes.

We are a young nation and yet have found our way in the world, we however need to urgently and firmly consolidate that position.

We want the word South Africa to be on everybody's lips. When they speak about our country, we want them to feel enthusiastic and inspired. We need to tell our story in a compelling way, and show the world what we have to offer.

The good news is we have plenty to say, plenty to offer, and all the confidence and character it takes.

We have successfully organised and hosted a raft of high-profile sporting, political and cultural events since 1994, which gave us the platform and momentum to educate and inform the world, transforming the perception of the country well into the future.

More specifically we offer;

- A well managed, diversified and productive economy.
- An international trade and tourism destination with world-class infrastructure. The latest testament of which is the Gautrain (the first high-speed rail link in Africa).
- Our continental leadership and strength in governance, trade, technology and tourism has ensured that we remain the primary platform and route to accessing the continent.

The new vision for South Africa is something we can all believe in, something we need to live up to, get right behind and strive to achieve. This vision is based on the single-minded theme of 'Inspiration'.

This theme embodies the beginning of all things, presenting limitless opportunities and exciting new experiences, creating the perfect canvass for new possibilities and ideas.
